

E1000 Dx Digital Pathology Solution

Designed for your team's unique workflow needs from digitization to sign out

Epredia's comprehensive solution complements your existing workflow, increasing team satisfaction and efficiency

E1000 DX Scanner

Maximize productivity, minimize workflow disruptions and capture the best image the first time.

Maximize throughput

- Dual Slide Processing: Eliminates downtime between sides, as the instrument can immediately start scanning the next slide
- Continuous Loading: Load slides on demand directly from your coverslipper and prioritize slides based on your workflow needs
- Safety Container: Enables uninterrupted operation by segregating unreadable slides to a safety container, alerting you to slide preparation issues, and continuing digitizing slides

Automated Quality Control

- Gain confidence that your workflow will not be interrupted due to poor quality images
- Automated focus quality algorithm rescans slides with advanced settings if out-of-focus areas are detected
- Proprietary sample-detection algorithm, produces high quality focus and image resolution

True Walkaway Scanning

- Remotely monitor your scanners throughput data and workload statistics
- Email alerts throughout the scanning process for run completion and any errors
- Overnight runs of up to 1200 slides to add an additional shift to your laboratory

Integrated IMS and Viewer Software

Integrated image management software and viewer, that allows seamless movement and review of images for caseload allocation and review.

Easy to Navigate

- Embedded viewer and slide tray, enables review and movement through cases with minimal steps

Facilitates Collaboration

- Telepathology capable allowing collaboration between internal and external colleagues
- Interoperable and integratable with 3rd party LIS and IMS/PACS Software

Efficient Review Process

- Nine-slide view: Open and link up to nine slides to quickly navigate multiple slides from the case
- Browser compatibility gives pathologists freedom to review cases from any location on their iPhone or iPad
